Teacher's Library Card

Suffolk Community Libraries offers opportunities for schools to purchase a Teacher's Library Card. This allows one class teacher to borrow up to 35 books for a longer loan period of 17 weeks. Useful for creating class reading corners, building research skills, or curating a specific unit of work. The cards cost £50 per card per year and schools can purchase up to eight cards. Books can be searched and reserved via our online system and librarians are often able to help recommend books for school staff.

Class Visits

We have 45 library branches across Suffolk with many libraries having the space and capacity to welcome classes in for a story and a chat about library services or the programmes and events we have planned. A tour of the library space is also available. Please contact the library manager of your local library to find out more. School staff need to be present and engaged for the full session. An initial conversation about the aims and outcomes of the library visit will be held prior to the class visit.

Reading Quest

Suffolk Community Libraries has created a bespoke Suffolk based summer reading programme. Formally launched in 2024, this programme aims to encourage reading for pleasure and visiting the library over the six-week summer holiday. Children and families can sign up in their local library every July and begin their quest to discover, “Where will reading take you this summer?”

The Blank Page Project

Funded by the Department for Education's Holiday Activity Fund (HAF), The Blank Page Project is an exciting programme of workshops run by local creatives in libraries during the longer school holidays. The Blank Page Project workshops give 10-16 year olds the chance to express their creativity through a range of mediums. Each workshop runs from 9:45am to 3:30pm and includes a lunch.

Families eligible for free school meals can access free places on workshops. Anyone not eligible for a free space can pay £15 per day for a place. Students can book onto as many workshops as they like. All are designed to offer something different each day so young people can attend multiple workshops.

Power of Libraries Conference

Suffolk Community Libraries has previously hosted two successful conferences aimed at teachers across Suffolk. The purpose of the conferences was to engage with library offers, browse the range of books and activities available as well as network with colleagues from schools across Suffolk. Workshops and talks led by literacy experts, consultants and authors have been offered and well-received.

This is a free event and dates and locations are announced ahead of each event, normally scheduled for March.

Curated Booklists

Our librarians and stock team have a lot of expertise in children's literature and can curate booklists to fit in with a theme or unit of work. These suggested titles could then be borrowed via the Teacher's Library Card. These booklists can also be shared with your community to encourage reading a range of genres, styles and types of text, and for further research.

We regularly publish booklists on our website, and these can be downloaded and shared. See website link below.
